The legendary University of Florida scientist who led the research team that gave the world Gatorade. Cade and his research fellows began experimenting with Gatorade in 1965 with the Florida football team and it has grown into a multibillion-dollar sports drink industry that has brought in more than $150 million in royalties to UF.

DARA TORRES
(Swimming, 1985-89)

The 1988 overall SEC Female Athlete of the Year who was a 28-time All-American at UF made U.S. history in 2000 when she became the first woman to swim on four U.S. Olympic Teams. Torres topped that in 2008 when she became the first female swimmer over 40 to compete in the Olympic Games. At 41, she won three silver medals and has a total of 12 Olympic Medals.

HEATHER MITTS
(Soccer, 1996-99)

A 1999 first-team NSCAA All-American, Mitts was one of the most popular players for the now disbanded WUSA's Philadelphia Charge. Mitts helped the 2004 and 2008 U.S. Olympic Teams win back-to-back gold medals and trained with the 2006 U.S. National Team. An injury kept her off the 2007 U.S. World Cup Team, but Heather worked for ESPN and its coverage of the event.

FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

Before entering the complex, fans can see a variety of tributes to Gator Greats. Every first-team All-American has an 18 x 18 granite paver located in the walkway with their name and year they won All-America honors. The eight Gators who have been elected into the College Football Hall of Fame are also recognized in the area. A spectacular 15-foot bronze Gator stands at the center of the entryway, paying tribute to the 2006 National Championship Team.

Adjoining the football main entry area is the 4,000 square-foot Gator Room, a central location used to house recruiting functions throughout the year. Seating capacity for meals is 200 and a state-of-the-art audio and visual system provides visitors with an in-depth look at Florida football.

> "What this has allowed us to do, which every big-time program in America has, is a chance to honor our heritage. That's how you build tradition."
> —Florida athletic director Jeremy Foley

After 18 months of construction, the James W. "Bill" Heavener Football Complex opened in July 2008, just in time to be showcased during the 2008 National Championship season. The new "Gateway of Champions" is a state-of-the-art, environmentally-friendly building that has quickly proven to help the Gators on and off the field. It is the first building in Florida and the first athletic facility in the nation to achieve platinum certification from the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Green Building Rating System. At the time of completion, only 130 buildings in the US and 141 worldwide had platinum status, which is the highest available rating.

Up a flight of stairs, an additional 6,310 square-feet was added to the existing square footage, creating a grand total of 15,845 square-feet for all football office areas.

The 1,911 square-foot entryway in the building features photos and videos from Florida's three National Championship teams and eight SEC Championship teams. The south wall features the individuals who have garnered such national awards as the Heisman Trophy, William V. Campbell Trophy, Lou Grozo Award, Maxwell Award, Rimington Trophy and Mackey Award. There is also a special tribute to the Gators' rivalries, complete with historical wins and video highlights.

"I saw the black granite bricks in the front with all the All-Americans…I got emotional about it. Guys gave their life and their soul to make this program great and now they're permanently part of the history in the greatest stadium in all of college football…out there where everybody can see them and embrace what they've done.

— Head coach Urban Meyer"

BULL GATOR

IN HONOR OF THE 2006 FOOTBALL NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP AND MEMBERS OF THE BULL GATOR PROGRAM

GATOR STATUE PROVIDED BY A GENEROUS GIFT FROM STUMPY HARRIS, HJALMA JOHNSON AND JOE LECOMPTE

STRENGTH

"We pride ourselves on having a tough strength and conditioning program. We understand that disciplined physical training facilitates toughness. It's what we do."

—Mickey Marotti, Director of Strength & Conditioning

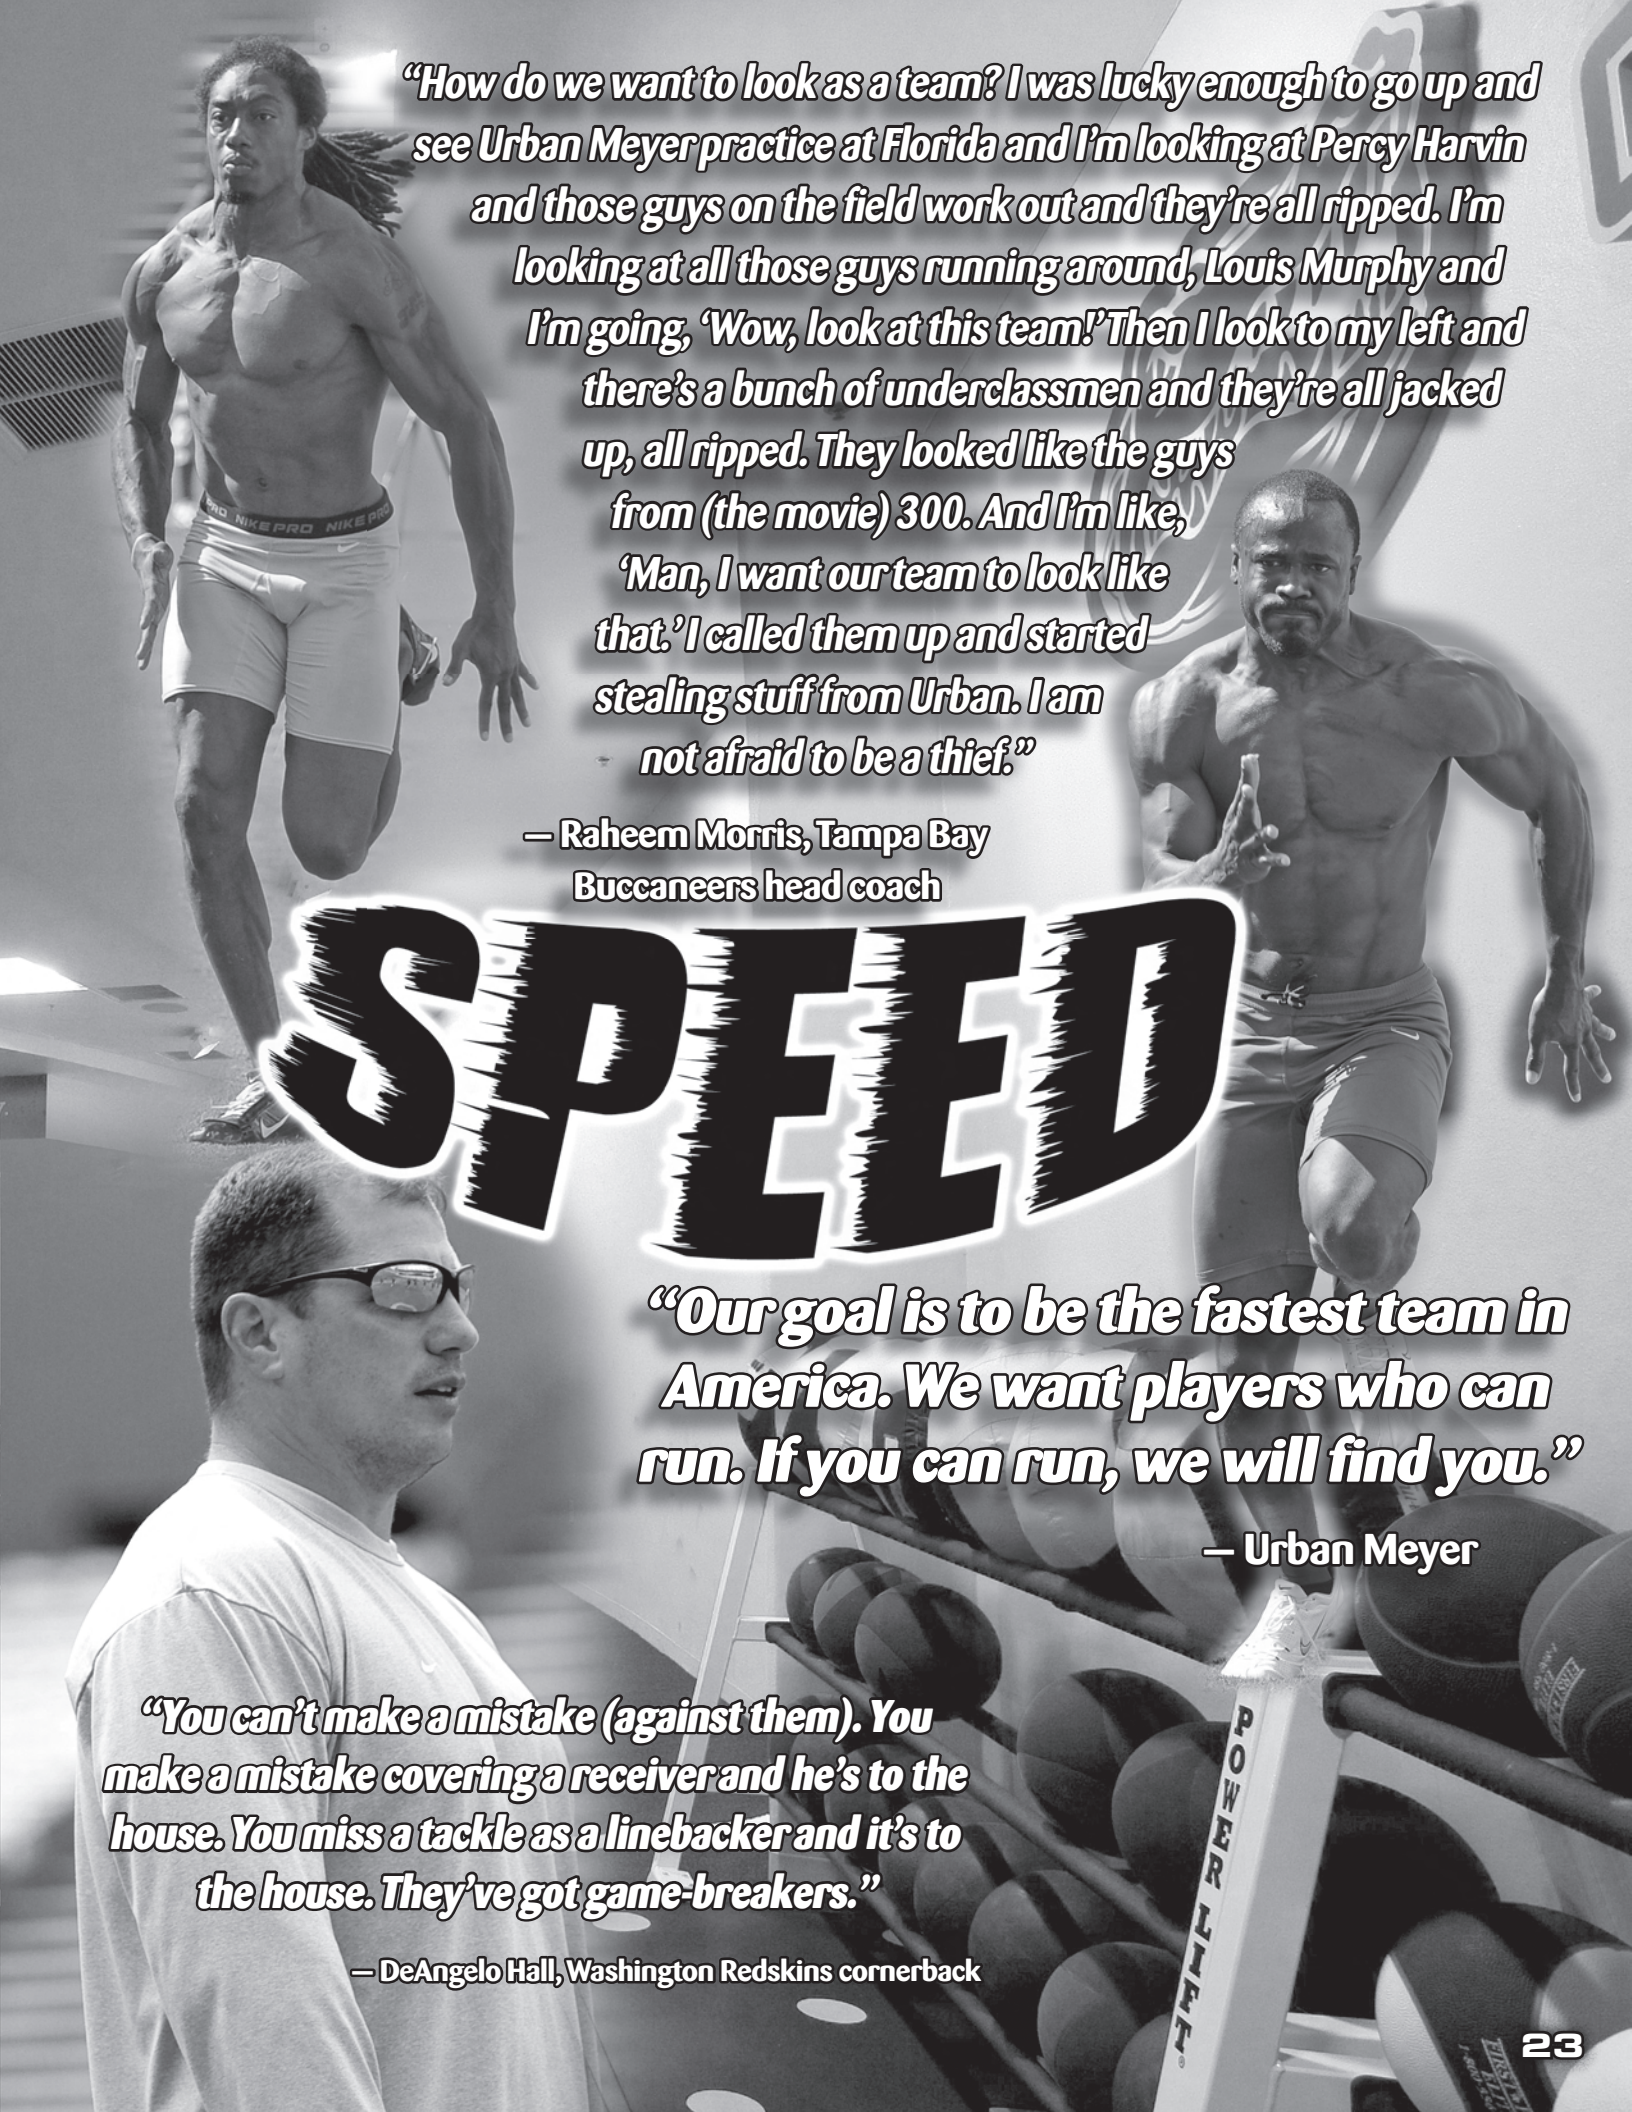
TOUGHNESS

"If you can survive Coach Mick's workouts in the summer, then (handling) the season is nothing to you. You're mentally strong. You're physically strong."

— Maurkice Pouncey, former UF center and current Pittsburgh Steeler

"Too much speed. Just too much of the things you can't teach."

— Bobby Bowden, former FSU head coach



"How do we want to look as a team? I was lucky enough to go up and see Urban Meyer practice at Florida and I'm looking at Percy Harvin and those guys on the field work out and they're all ripped. I'm looking at all those guys running around, Louis Murphy and I'm going, 'Wow, look at this team!' Then I look to my left and there's a bunch of underclassmen and they're all jacked up, all ripped. They looked like the guys from (the movie) 300. And I'm like, 'Man, I want our team to look like that.' I called them up and started stealing stuff from Urban. I am not afraid to be a thief."

— Raheem Morris, Tampa Bay Buccaneers head coach

SPEED

"Our goal is to be the fastest team in America. We want players who can run. If you can run, we will find you."

— Urban Meyer

"You can't make a mistake (against them). You make a mistake covering a receiver and he's to the house. You miss a tackle as a linebacker and it's to the house. They've got game-breakers."

— DeAngelo Hall, Washington Redskins cornerback

TRAINING PHILOSOPHY

STRENGTH, SPEED, CONDITIONING

Incorporation of progressive overload protocol, specific to football, encompassing an extensive, systematic, periodized year-round training schedule. Training involves all physical and mental considerations that are conducive to success on the field. Accountability is the foundation which the program is built upon.

"Every time I have seen Florida play, it looks like every guy who touches the ball is faster than the guy who had it the time before and has a better chance of scoring than the guy who just had it."

— Bill Belichick, New England Patriots head coach

"Give the Florida Gators a team they can dominate, and they will mesmerize you with their speed and athletic gifts. Make them work, however, and the Gators will call on the heat and guts that have become the indelible trademark of Urban Meyer's teams."

— Ivan Maisel, ESPN.com

"How did these guys get so tough? A lot of it goes to their strength coach Mickey Marotti, who pushed them so hard during the offseason. But in the end, it's up to every player individually to man up."

— Pat Dooley, Gainesville Sun

FACILITY

As part of Florida's $28-million renovation and expansion of the Southwest stadium, the strength and conditioning complex has expanded to a total of 20,900 square feet covered with one-inch thick resilient athletic flooring designed for weight training facilities. The weight room is furnished with new weight equipment, TV monitors and a state-of-the-art sound and video system. A 4,800-square foot synthetic practice turf area is big enough to provide 25-yard long sprints. The renovated area includes a nutrition room, seven offices for the strength staff, a conference room and locker facilities.

The program is focused on prevention of athletic injuries. When injuries do occur, the Sports Health staff's job is to evaluate, provide immediate care, treat and rehabilitate the injury until the athlete is ready to return to the playing field in a safe, timely manner. Working with everyone involved is the key. Our goal is to provide world-class care to our athletes.

SPORTS HEALTH

MISSION STATEMENT

Fully believing no injury/illness or nutritional concern is too great nor too small to receive anything but our fullest attention in every detail, while functioning in a cost-efficient mode and within the confines of regulations set forth by the NCAA, SEC, the University of Florida, and the University Athletic Association and regardless of the time of day or night, it is the intent and purpose of the Sports Health Department to enhance health and improve performance and to provide our student-athletes the absolute best care possible. Also, to extend the courtesies and assistance to our outside competition in the same way we expect for our student-athletes.

Located in the Ben Hill Griffin Athletic Training Center is the 8,700 square foot South End Zone athletic training room. This athletic training facility is among the finest in the nation. Included in the South End Zone athletic training room are a primary care physician office and an orthopedic physician office. A full variety of prevention, treatment and rehabilitation equipment is within the South End Zone's athletic training room. Prior to the 2006 football season, a 1,000 square foot athletic training room located at the practice fields was added. This athletic training room includes treatment tables, an ice machine, an ultrasound/electric stimulation unit and a taping station.

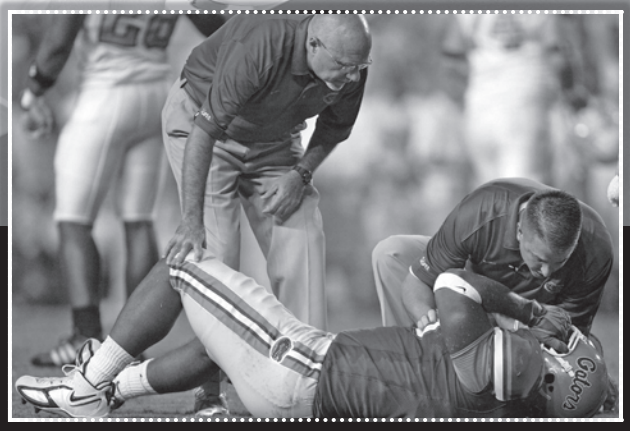
3D Motion Analysis

During prehab screening, the Sports Health Staff utilizes the motion analysis lab and its findings to address underlying problems that could eventually cause injury. The lab, located at Orthopedics Sports Medicine Institute in Gainesville, Fla., is one of the largest facilities of its kind in the United States. The motion analysis and biomechanics facility features an 11-camera, three-dimensional infrared digital camera system. The same technology has been used extensively by Electronic Arts Video Game design company and major Hollywood motion picture studios. The system allows our researchers and analysts the ability to examine the biomechanics of our players' movements at an astonishing 500 images per second. This data is then compiled and placed in a data repository, used to determine the most optimal biomechanics positioning for avoiding injury and improving human performance.



The Gator Sports Nutrition department is committed to providing cutting-edge nutritional education, counseling, food service and supplementation to all Gator athletes, including:

THE SWAMP

"We want our team to realize what it means to play in 'The Swamp.' Our opponents should fear the environment here, which is the toughest in college football. This place is just not like any other place in the nation. When I was at Notre Dame I recruited the state of Florida. I was driving up to Lake City to see a guy and passed by Gainesville. I thought to myself, 'I'm going to go take a look and see why I keep losing a percentage of guys to this University.' I was only supposed to be here for about an hour, but I was here for about two. I stood on the fifty-yard line. It was a heck of a deal. I called my wife and said, 'Now I understand.'"

–Florida head coach Urban Meyer

"It exploded. That's as loud as I've heard any stadium since my time here, basically ever in my life."

– Kelvin Sheppard, LSU linebacker

"I'll never forget 'The Swamp.' You talk to the former players all the time and the atmosphere in 'The Swamp' is better than anything in the pros. I'm going to miss it a lot."

— Chris Leak, former UF quarterback

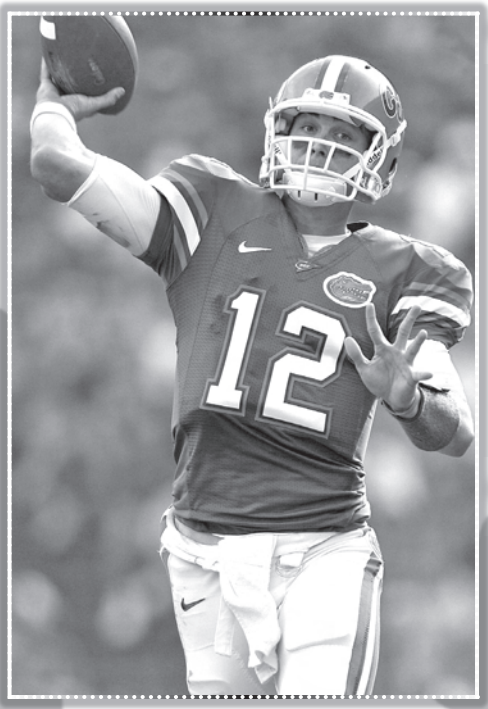
OFFENSE

The Gator offense has produced 82 All-Americans, 105 first-team All-SEC selections, 24 first-round NFL Draft picks and three Heisman Trophy winners. A Gator offensive player has finished in the top 10 of the Heisman Trophy balloting 13 times since 1965.

Under Coach Meyer, a Florida offensive player has earned the following honors: Heisman Trophy winner, Maxwell Award winner, Davey O'Brien Award winner, Rimington Trophy winner, Mackey Award winner, William V. Campbell Award winner, Sullivan Award winner, Wuerffel Trophy winner, Manning Award winner, National Player of the Year, SEC Player of the Year, SEC Offensive Player of the Year, All-American, MVP of the BCS National Championship Game, the SEC Championship Game, the Sugar Bowl and the Outback Bowl.

The Gators have ranked among the SEC's top five teams in each of the following offensive categories in each of the last five seasons: scoring offense, rushing offense, passing offense, total offense, pass efficiency, first downs and third-down conversions.



They have a spread offense. They read coverages. They run routes based on coverages or the technique of the defender. They have multiple formations and blitz adjustments and all those kinds of things that are common in the National Football League. I think kids that come out of that offense have a good understanding of passing concepts.

— Bill Belichick, New England Patriots head coach

THE 2009 FLORIDA OFFENSE...

- Led the SEC in four offensive categories (total offense, pass efficiency, first downs and third down conversions) and ranked in the top 10 nationally in five offensive categories (passing efficiency – 1st; total offense – 6th; third-down conversion – 7th; rushing offense – 10th; scoring – 10th).
- Led the nation with a pass efficiency of 167.3. It marked the second time UF has led the nation in pass efficiency, something no other SEC school has ever done.

One of the things that impressed me the most about my evaluation of Florida receivers is that they run very disciplined routes. They are similar to what we run in the NFL. The wide receivers at Florida are already well versed in an offense that most NFL teams are now using.

— Kevin Rogers, Minnesota Vikings quarterbacks coach

- Was the only offense in the nation that posted over 3,000 yards both rushing (3,105) and passing (3,305).
- Finished in the top five in school history in the following categories: total points, rushing touchdowns, pass efficiency, completion percentage, rushing average, yards per play and fewest turnovers.
- Produced the Mackey Award and Rimington Trophy winners, given to the nation's top tight end and center, respectively.
- Set or tied 11 Sugar Bowl records and four BCS bowl game records in the 51-24 Sugar Bowl victory over Cincinnati.

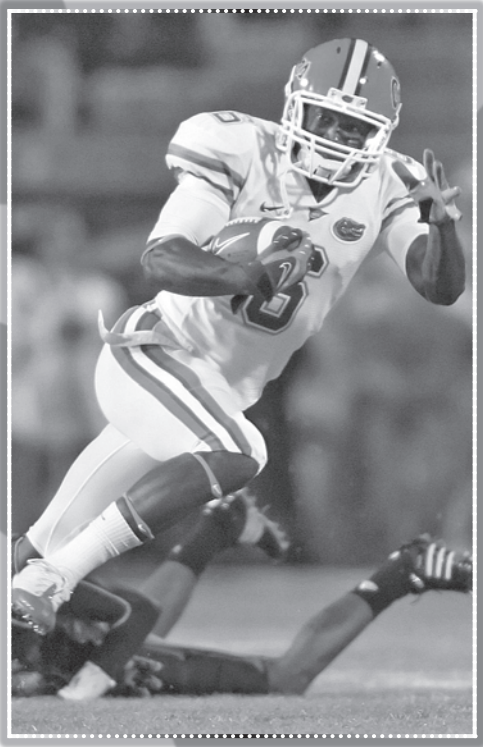
The Florida offensive line has paved the way for three consecutive seasons averaging over 200 yards rushing per game (221.8 in 2009, 231.1 in 2008, 200.2 in 2007), the first time since 1975-77 the feat has occurred at UF.



"Florida receivers come to the NFL prepared and ready to play. They are familiar with a philosophy that we are implementing. We ask our receivers to run precise routes, read and react, block on the edge, and play with toughness. The Florida receivers do just that .We drafted Andre Caldwell in 2008 because we felt he was so well prepared to contribute immediately, which he did for us last season."

— Marvin Lewis, Cincinnati Bengals head coach

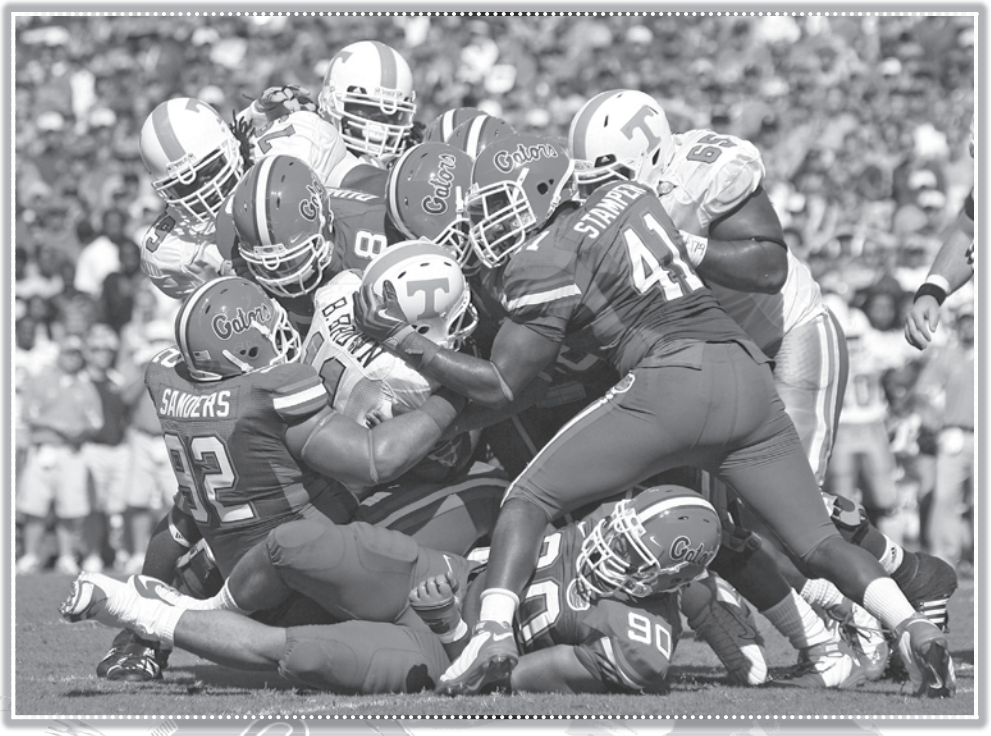
DEFENSE

The Gator defense has produced 69 different players who have earned All-American honors, including 29 who have earned first-team recognition. UF's defense has produced 12 All-Americans and 19 All-SEC honorees in the last five seasons.



THE 2009 FLORIDA DEFENSE...

- Florida ranked in the top six nationally in scoring defense, total defense, passing defense, opponents' pass efficiency and scrimmage touchdowns allowed.
- Led the SEC in sacks and pass defense, marking the first time since 1988 that UF led the league in pass defense.
- Held five opponents to less than 75 yards rushing and held three opponents in a four-game span to less than 100 yards in both rushing and passing.
- Had 10 different players grab an interception and recorded multiple picks in six games this season. Nine of Florida's 20 interceptions came in the fourth quarter.
- Allowed just six rushing touchdowns all season, tied for fourth-fewest in school history, and allowed just one over the final six regular season contests.

> That was the best defense I have ever played against. They move players around, stand-off guys and bring lots of different looks we weren't used to seeing.
> — Chris Smelley, South Carolina quarterback

- Held two SEC opponents to three points or less for the first time since 1993.
- Forced opponents into a three-and-out on 46.4 percent of all drives.

UNDER HEAD COACH URBAN MEYER...

- The Florida defense has produced four first-round picks in the NFL Draft, including two top-10 picks. Eight defensive linemen have been selected under Meyer's watch, more than any other school in the nation during that time.
- Florida is one of only three schools in the nation to rank inside the top 15 nationally each of the past five years in rushing defense.
- The Gators have held opponents to 95.1 rushing yards per game in the past five years. That ranks sixth in the nation and is the best among SEC teams during that time.
- Florida has scored 494 points off turnovers created by the defense since 2005.

FLORIDA'S RECORD UNDER COACH MEYER WHEN...

SPECIAL TEAMS

THE 2009 FLORIDA SPECIAL TEAMS...

- Finished in the top 10 nationally in net punting (second - 41.0) and kickoff returns (fifth - 26.4) and led the SEC in kickoff returns for the first time since 1991.
- Didn't allow a punt return longer than eight yards, tied for lowest in the nation.
- Brandon James set the SEC all-time kick return mark (combined kickoff and punt returns) with 4,089 yards. James also set the SEC record for kickoff return yards, finishing with 2,718 yards on 112 returns.
- Caleb Sturgis set a UF record for field goals attempted in a season (30) and had the second-highest total of field goals made (22) in school history. He hit a 56-yard field goal against Georgia, the second-longest in school history and longest in the SEC during 2009.
- Chas Henry was a finalist for the Ray Guy Award with a 43.4 average, with only three punts returned for positive yards and 15 inside the 20. Henry booted eight of 50-plus yards.
- Chris Rainey blocked two punts last season, scoring a touchdown off his block against Kentucky.

I was talking to my long snapper the other day and we were saying what other college in the nation focuses on special teams and what other college in the nation has their head coach as the special teams coordinator and really cares about special teams as much as Coach Meyer does? It's great to have. Special teams are high on his priority list. Starters want to play on special teams.

— Chas Henry, UF punter

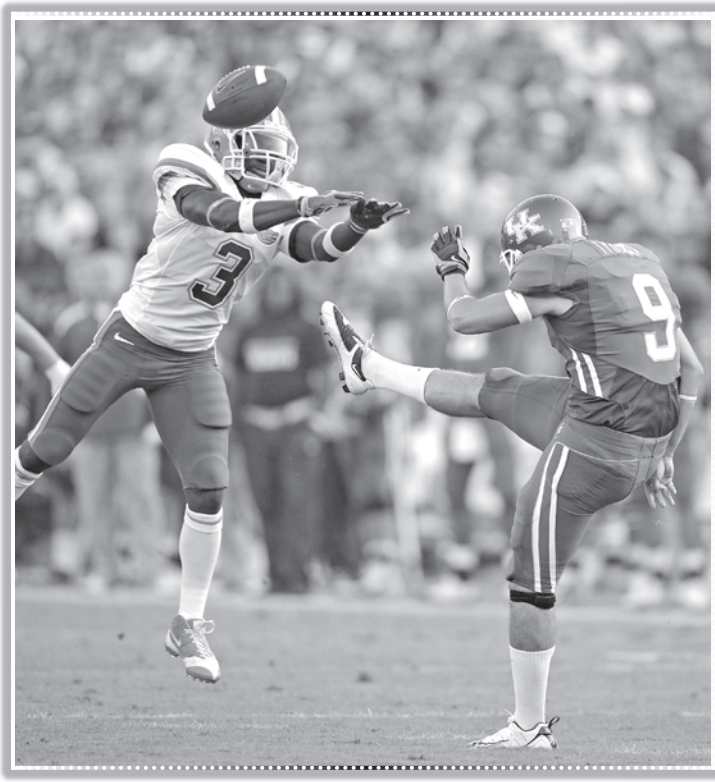
I knew the line was going to hold everyone back, the snap was going to be perfect and I didn't have much to worry about. We do it in practice a lot, but I tried not to think about it too much when I was out there. It's good to get the experience. Having good guys around me certainly helps.

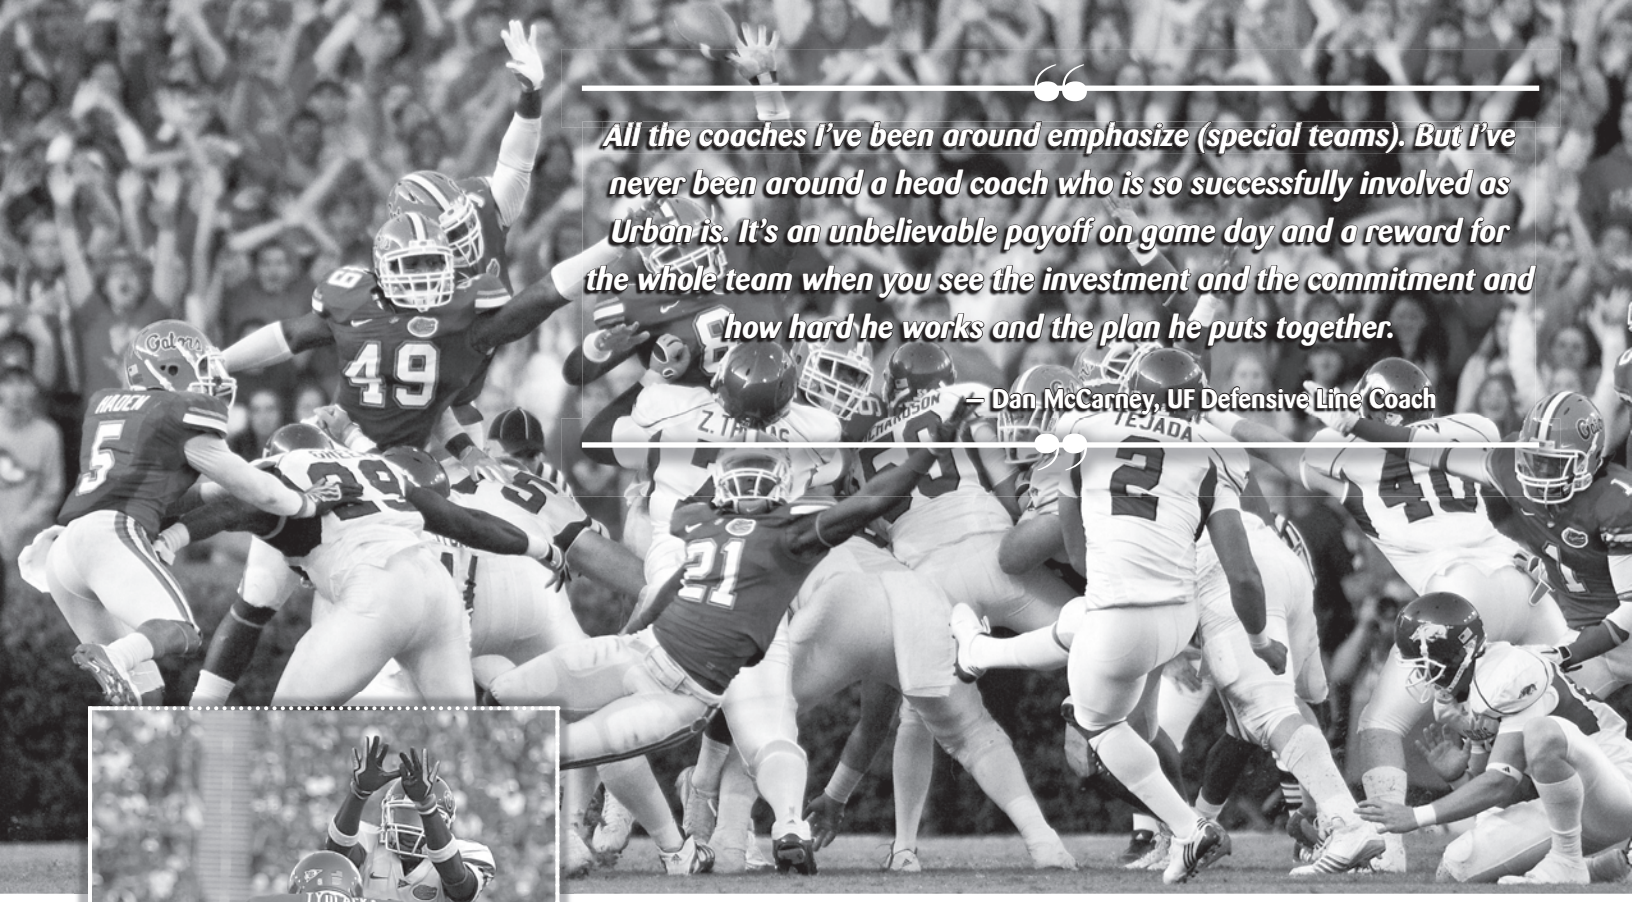
— Caleb Sturgis, UF kicker after hitting the game-winning field goal against Arkansas

UNDER HEAD COACH URBAN MEYER...

- Florida led the nation with only five punt returns allowed in 2007 and 2009. The total of 21 punt return yards allowed in 2009 set the record for fewest punt return yards allowed by UF in a season.
- UF has allowed the fewest punt returns (61) and punt return yards (252) in the nation since 2005. That's an average of just 4.1 yards per return, also best in the country.
- The Gators have blocked 28 kicks (18 punts, seven field goals and three extra-points) since 2005, the most blocked kicks of any team in the nation.
- UF has been a perfect 7-for-7 on executing fake punts. In 2008, the Gators successfully completed two fake punts. Punter Chas Henry ran 17 yards for a first down against Hawaii, and Brandon James scampered 10 yards against Arkansas to keep a drive alive.

- Eight players have blocked multiple kicks in a single season. Demetrice Webb and Marcus Thomas in 2005; Jarvis Moss, Ryan Smith and Reggie Nelson in 2006; Jeff Demps and Carlos Dunlap in 2008; Chris Rainey in 2009.





All the coaches I've been around emphasize (special teams). But I've never been around a head coach who is so successfully involved as Urban is. It's an unbelievable payoff on game day and a reward for the whole team when you see the investment and the commitment and how hard he works and the plan he puts together.

Our offense gets a lot of attention, but our success is really the direct result of our play on special teams. Our special teams' philosophy is predicated on two things: taking care of the ball and winning the battle of field position. When we do those things, both our offense and defense have exponentially better chances of success.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Goodwill Gators Mission

Mission Statement

The mission of the University Athletic Association's Goodwill Gators Community Outreach Program is to foster citizenship between administration, coaches, student-athletes and the greater Gainesville community. Through volunteerism, Goodwill Gators will:

- strengthen our commitment to greater Gainesville and the surrounding communities.
- encourage citizenship, civic virtues and how one should behave as part of a community.
- enhance the personal development of student-athletes.

History

With the accolades and benefits received by student-athletes come responsibilities. Student-athletes have a responsibility to serve the community that supports them as they grow physically, mentally and emotionally. The Goodwill Gators program understands and meets the need to be involved within the community by participating in weekly and annual service projects.

The Goodwill Gators program provides student-athletes with quality volunteer opportunities that allow them to give back to the community. In turn, the community may utilize the Goodwill Gator student-athletes as positive role models, eager volunteers and motivational speakers.

The Goodwill Gators program has been recognized nationally by the National Consortium of Academics and Sports (1998, 2000-07) for its outreach and service commitment to the community. Student-athletes have demonstrated a high commitment to the Goodwill Gators program making consistent appearances with several organizations.

A new initiative that began in 2009, UF football players perform more than 400 hours of community service annually, as each student-athlete attends at least two Goodwill Gator events per semester.

Community Programs

Gator Literacy

Designed to promote reading and literacy in Alachua County. Once a week, student-athletes read stories with children during their lunch time.

Gator Club

The Gator Club program is a partnership with the Shands Medical Plaza. On Tuesdays and Thursdays , the UF football team visits with the pediatric patients at the Medical Plaza.

Stephen Foster Intramurals

The children of Stephen Foster Elementary look forward to Tuesdays and Thursdays, when the Gators come to play intramural activities with them.

Gator Tracks

Gator Tracks is an "angel tree"-type program that takes place during the holiday season. Local elementary school teachers provide the Gators with children's first names and shoe sizes, after recognizing that they are in need of new sneakers.

BLAQUE

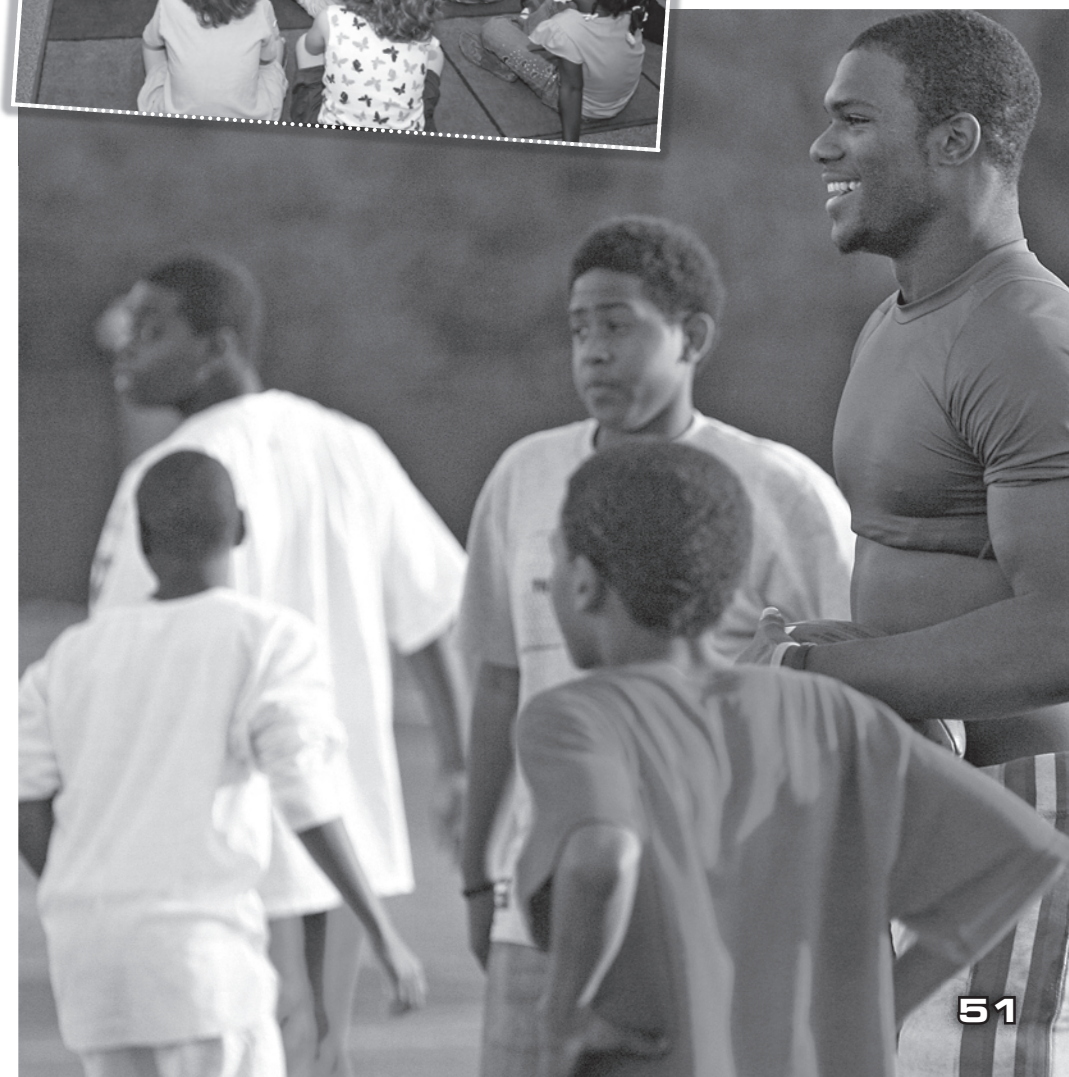
In the spring of 2008, Florida Coach Urban Meyer initiated a mentor program for young at-risk males. Working with the African-American Accountability Alliance of Alachua County task force, the program BLAQUE (Bold Leaders, Achieving Quality, Unity and Excellence) was developed. The program partnered 15 area middle school children with a Gator football player and a community leader. The goal is to affect change in the lives of at-risk black youth.

Gator Charity Challenge

The UF football team holds an annual Gator Charity Challenge strong-man competition at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium to close its offseason workouts. The event, which was started in 2008, is free and open to the public and partners with several charities affiliated with Shands Hospital in an effort to raise awareness within the community for the various causes. Fans in attendance have the opportunity to make a pledge to the charities associated with the Gator Charity Challenge.

Swamp Field Trip

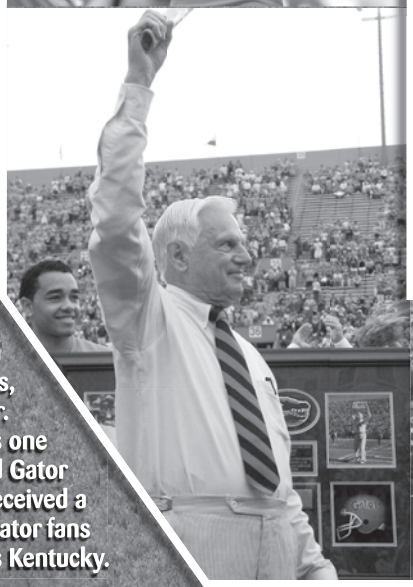
A program that started in the spring of 2009, the "Swamp Field Trip" is available to local middle schools as a reward for their students who achieve good grades, are involved in community service, have had major improvements, etc. The students have the opportunity to speak with a group of players and have a special tour of the football facility given by the players.



FLORIDA GAME DAY

Established by Coach Meyer prior to the Wyoming game his first season, the "Gator Walk" gives fans the opportunity to greet the team upon arrival at the stadium two hours prior to kickoff. Fans join the UF cheerleaders, mascots and pep band to wish the team well prior to home contests. The Gators exit team buses on the corner of University Ave. and Gale Lemerand Drive and walk along the sidewalk into the stadium and across Florida Field on their way to the locker room.

The 2008 National Championship season marked the final season for Mr. Two Bits. For over 50 years, Tampa resident and avid Gator fan George Edmondson would travel from section to section at all Gator games leading rousing renditions of "Two Bits, Four Bits, Six Bits, a Dollar – All for the Gators, Stand Up and Holler!" Mr. Two Bits was honored as one of Florida's most beloved Gator spirit traditions, as he received a standing ovation from Gator fans prior to the game versus Kentucky.



"Gainesville is land-locked and gets no breeze from the Atlantic or the Gulf. But that's part of the charm of game day, with the heat and humidity reaching sweltering levels on the field. Forget about hand fans or wet towels or any other cooling device. It's hot and humid. Deal with it."

— Matt Hayes,
The Sporting News

The Boys From Old Florida

At the end of the third quarter, the band strikes up "We Are the Boys from Old Florida," and all Gator fans stand together and sway left and right, arm-in-arm, while singing this traditional tune.

Singing the Fight Song With the Student Section

In another Coach Meyer-inspired experience, the Florida players now sing the UF Fight Song, "The Orange and Blue," and the Alma Mater following each home contest as the players and coaches join the band and the student section following each home contest in the Northwest corner of the stadium.

Alumni Tunnel

Since Coach Meyer's arrival in Gainesville, he has made former players feel welcome in "The Swamp." One way of intertwining the past and present that has already progressed is the Alumni Tunnel. Prior to the first home game of the season, when current Gators run out of the tunnel on to Florida Field several football letterwinners form an extension of the tunnel through which the team passes.

Captains' Legacy Dinner

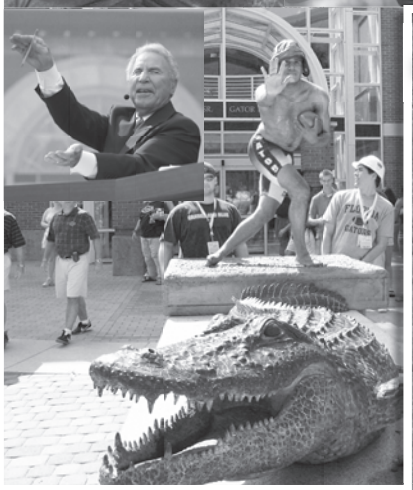
New for the 2006 season, former team captains were invited to a team dinner with current players on the Friday before the Homecoming game vs. LSU. The dinner offered the present team a way to interact and learn from proven leaders. Captains were invited to bring their families to the game on Saturday.

Former Letterwinners BBQ

In his continuing effort to have former players be a part of the program, Coach Meyer invites every letterwinner and their family to attend a BBQ with the current team prior to each season. In Meyer's five years as head coach of the Gators, over 3,000 former players and their family members have attended the event.

Pride of the Sunshine

The University of Florida Fightin' Gator Marching Band (also known as The Pride of the Sunshine) plays at every UF game.



I thought that was big-time. They stopped us when we were on the way to do the Gator Walk and said there were just thousands and thousands of people along the way. I really appreciate all of those people coming out, and I thought it was fantastic we could show our appreciation to them in that way.

— UF head coach Urban Meyer commenting on the Gator Walk following his first game in "The Swamp"

We love our student body. That's one thing Coach Meyer has changed around here. It used to be we'd go play the game for ourselves and we were looked at in a different way, but now we always thank the student body and fans by singing the school's fight song after games as one way to show them appreciation.

— Tate Casey, former UF tight end

Rising junior Jeff Demps is one of three current Gator football players who are two-sport athletes, along with Frankie Hammond, Jr., and Chris Rainey, who all also compete for the Florida track and field team. Demps played a key role on the track squad in spring 2010, as he became the first student-athlete in school history to win the NCAA men's 60-meter dash championship, doing so in 6.57, helping the Gators capture UF's first NCAA Indoor Championship in program history.

On March 13, 2010, junior running back Jeff Demps became the first student-athlete at the University of Florida to be a part of a national championship team in two different sports. Demps won the BCS National Championship in 2008 with the football team and the NCAA Championship in 2010 as a member of the indoor men's track team.

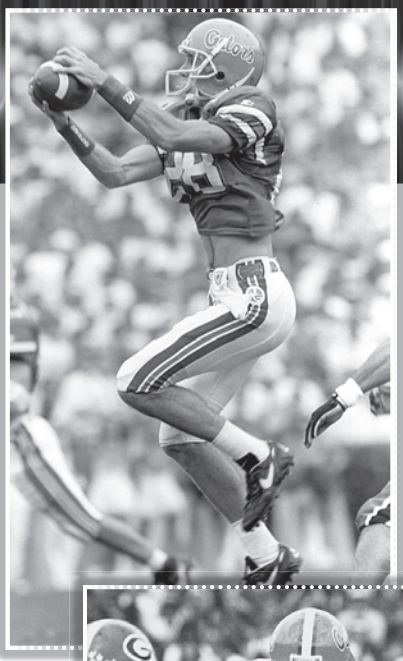
WALK-ONS



For years, the University of Florida football program has encouraged and fostered a walk-on program that gives many young men every year the opportunity to live their dream of playing major college football.

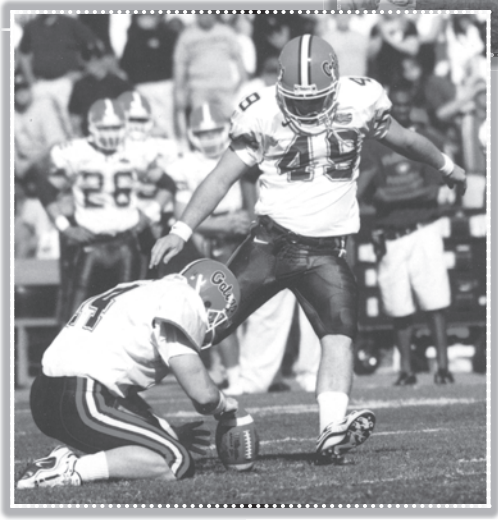
Many former walk-ons have eventually earned scholarships (45 alone since 1990), earned starting positions, gained All-SEC and All-America honors and even eventually played pro football. None of those players would have lived their dream and reached their potential if the University of Florida hadn't extended the opportunity they were seeking. Their eventual success has become a cherished part of the Gator football tradition and heritage.

- Fourteen former Gator walk-ons have gone on to play pro football: LS James Smith, DB Hagood Clarke, DB Allen Trammell, DB Bruce Vaughan, LB James Harrell, WR Lee McGriff, PK John James, PK David Posey, QB Kerwin Bell, DB Louis Oliver, WR Chris Doering, TE Tremayne Allen, PK Jeff Chandler and FB Billy Latsko.
- Former walk-on Louis Oliver was selected in the first round of the 1989 NFL Draft by Miami.
- Former walk-on John James went on to earn All-Pro honors as a punter in the NFL.
- Former walk-on Kerwin Bell earned SEC Player of the Year honors in 1984 and completed his career in 1987 as the greatest statistical passer in SEC history.
- Former walk-on DB Louis Oliver earned first-team All-America honors in 1987 and 1988.
- When Bobby Raymond completed his career in 1984, the former walk-on's name appeared in the NCAA place-kicking records in five separate categories.
- Walk-on WR Gary Rolle was named Academic All-America and winner of the National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award in 1984.
- Twenty-six members of the 1991 Southeastern Conference championship team, the first official SEC title in school history, were walk-ons.
- One hundred and twenty-eight (128) Gator walk-ons have earned Academic All-SEC honors.
- Former walk-on Kerwin Bell became a prominent Heisman Trophy candidate in 1987.
- Former walk-on Louis Oliver was one of three finalists for the Jim Thorpe Defensive Back of the Year Award in 1988.
- Former walk-on Judd Davis was named the 1993 recipient of the Lou Groza National Place-Kicker of the Year. He was also named a first-team All-American that season and completed his UF career in 1994 with 225 points, the top total in school history.

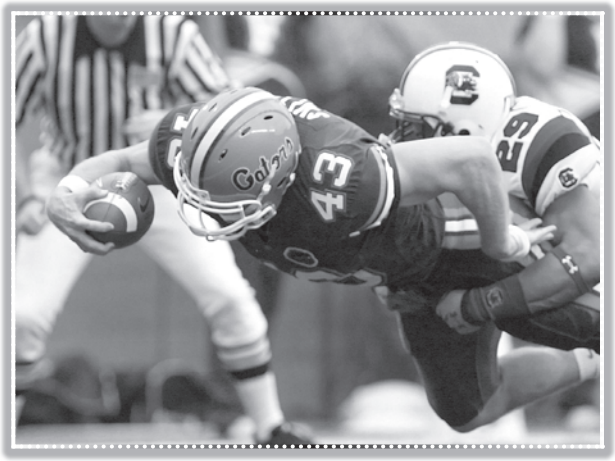
Chris Doering completed his outstanding career in 1995 with 31 TD catches, the most in SEC history. His 17 TDs in 1995 also set SEC and UF seasonal records.

- Former walk-on Chris Doering completed his Gator career in 1995 with 31 career TD catches, the top total in SEC and UF history. Doering was named second-team All-America, as well as first-team All-SEC in 1995, after grabbing 17 TD receptions, the best seasonal mark in SEC and UF history.
- Jeff Chandler joined the Gator program as a walk-on in 1998 and by the time he departed after the 2001 season, he had become UF's all-time leading scorer (368 points) and field-goal maker (67). He was a two-time semifinalist for the Groza Award, a two-time first-team All-SEC choice and a second-team All-American in 2001.
- The 1985 Gator team that finished 9-1-1 and fifth in the final national rankings had 18 prominent players that originally joined the program as walk-ons.
- Seven former Gator walk-ons – WR Lee McGriff, WR Chris Doering, DE Preston Kendrick, PK David Posey, QB Kerwin Bell, DB Louis Oliver and PK Jeff Chandler – have gone on to earn first-team All-SEC honors.
- The 2006 BCS National Championship squad featured 36 walk-ons, including five student-athletes that earned scholarships.

Pat Moorer had several scholarship offers, but he had a dream of playing in the SEC. He joined the UF program as a walk-on in August of 1986. He was awarded a scholarship in January of 1987. He led the nationally-ranked Gator defense in tackles in 1988 and 1989.



Jeff Chandler earned a scholarship prior to the 1999 season and then gained second-team All-America honors that season. The two-time semifinalist for the Groza National Place-Kicker of the Year Award became UF's all-time leading scorer by the time he departed after the 2001 season.



Gator walk-on long snapper James Smith earned a full scholarship in 2006 and handled all long snapping duties, as well as special teams' involvement for UF. Smith, a 2008 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District selection, signed a free agent contract with the Cincinnati Bengals in May 2009. A four-time SEC Academic Honor Roll selection, he earned his undergraduate degree, was pursuing a master's degree and was named a finalist for the Draddy Trophy, the "Academic Heisman". Smith's role on special teams led the Gators on their 2008 national title run.

Urban MEYER

When University of Florida Athletics Director Jeremy Foley hired Urban Meyer on December 4, 2004, the goal was to return Florida football to Southeastern Conference and national prominence.

Mission accomplished.

In five seasons, Meyer has guided the Gators to a pair of national championships, two Southeastern Conference Championships, three SEC Eastern Division crowns and five straight January bowl games, including three BCS bowl games.

URBAN MEYER
Head Football Coach

His .851 winning percentage (57-10) is the best in the school history and his .800 winning percentage (32-8) in SEC play is the top in league history among head coaches who spent five or more years in the conference.

He became the first coach in the history of the Football Bowl Subdivision to post consecutive 13-win seasons (2008 and 2009) and he is also the only coach to post three 13-win seasons in a four-year span. Meyer guided the 2008 and 2009 team to a school-record 22 game winning streak, the fourth-longest in the history of the SEC and the longest in the league in 15 years. Meyer is one of only two active coaches with multiple 20-game win streaks. His teams have currently won 14-straight SEC games, the second-longest in school history.

Meyer, who was named Sporting News and Sports Illustrated "Coach of the Decade" in December of 2009, is the first coach ever to win two BCS National Championships and he is one of only two coaches in the history of the SEC to win two outright National Titles.

Meyer, 45, became the fifth-youngest head coach to win a pair of national titles since 1950, and he is one of five coaches to win a pair of national championships in his first four years at a school.

Since the SEC's inception in 1933, no coach had begun his SEC career faster than Meyer. With his win vs. Arkansas in 2009, Meyer collected his 50th win as an SEC head coach, reaching that mark in just 59 games. That ties Frank Thomas of Alabama for the fastest to achieve 50 wins as an SEC head coach.

Meyer is one of only two active coaches to win a pair of outright national championships, coach a Heisman Trophy winner and coach a No. 1 pick in the National Football League Draft.

The five-year tenure of Coach Meyer in Gainesville extends beyond the multiple national and SEC Championships.

Meyer, who has 24 years of coaching experience, including nine as a head coach, became the only coach in school history to post seven-consecutive wins against UF's traditional rivals – Tennessee, Georgia and Florida State. Overall, Meyer has won 14 of 15 against the trio.

Florida has been ranked in the each of the 83 polls under Coach Meyer, including 64 weeks in the top 10 and 16 weeks at No. 1.

A three-time national Coach of the Year, his career record stands at 96-18 and his .842 winning percentage ranks the best in the nation among active coaches with at least five years of coaching experience. Just as impressive, Meyer owns an 11-2 (.846) record against the other top-10 active winningest coaches in college football. UF's 48 wins during the last four years is the second best total in the nation.

He owns a 54-4 (.931) record at home in his career, including 32-2 (.941) in The Swamp. Few are better than getting a team ready to play, as Meyer sports a 30-3 (.909) record when having more than a week to prepare for a game, including 15-1 at Florida.

Meyer is the only coach ever to have three wins over a No. 1 team in the BCS rankings, defeating Ohio State and Oklahoma in the 2007 and 2009 BCS Championship Games, respectively, and Alabama in the 2008 SEC Championship Game.

Twenty-six Gators have been selected in the NFL Draft under Meyer, including a nation's-best nine in 2007 and 2009. Seven Gators have been first-round draft picks under Meyer and UF has had at least one first-round pick in each of the last four years. A school-record-tying three Gators were drafted in the first round of the 2010 NFL Draft. Overall, 50 Gators have signed NFL contracts under Meyer.

Off the field, Meyer established the Gators' Leadership Committee, a group of players

> Honest. He told us some things during the process, and that never changed from what he has done. He always seemed to be concerned about our family every time we spoke, which was big for me. Every other coach would only speak about football and what our son could do for their school. Never what their school could do for our son.
> – Willie Hill, father of UF safety Will Hill when asked to describe Meyer in one word

Coach Meyer is 35-1 during the first four games of the season as a head coach, including 19-1 at Florida.

> I've got a championship ring and a college degree. Not many people get a moment like this in life. I thank God and I thank Coach Meyer because I couldn't have done it without them.

charged with acting as spokesmen for the team and handling situations related to team policy issues, academic affairs, off-campus circumstances and other topics.

His priority on academics has resulted in 131 players being named to the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll in the last five years. His 2008 team tied a league record with 37 players named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll. In 2007, Tim Tebow became the first Florida football player named to First-Team Academic All-America since Danny Wuerffel in 1996. Tebow was also only the second sophomore football player in school history and the fourth sophomore athlete overall at UF to earn first-team Academic All-America honors. In 2008, he was chosen as ESPN The Magazine's Academic All-American of the Year for football and repeated as a first-time Academic All-America selection. Tebow repeated the feat again in 2009 and captured the William V. Campbell Trophy, the top Academic honor in college football.

Chris Leak was a finalist for the 2006 William V. Campbell Trophy, then known as the Draddy Trophy, dubbed the Academic Heisman, and was selected as the 2006 Fall Graduating Outstanding Leader for all students on campus. Leak was the featured speaker at UF graduation ceremonies in December of 2006 and overall 82 players have graduated under Meyer. In addition, Mike Degory was named to ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District III Team in 2005 in Meyer's first year.

BCS Bowl Wins Among Active Coaches (Since 2003)

2. Mack Brown 3
2. Jim Tressel. 3
3. Rich Rodriguez 2

Meyer is equally committed to the University of Florida, as he and Billy Donovan agreed in October of 2008 to lead a campus charge to raise $50 million for UF's Florida Opportunity Scholars Program. The program was created by UF President Bernie Machen to provide financial assistance to first-generation, financially-disadvantaged students working towards a bachelor's degree. Meyer has made a $1 million commitment to the Florida Opportunity Scholarship Program.

Coach Meyer leads all active coaches with three 13-win seasons and he is the only coach to win 13 games in consecutive seasons.

In addition to his on the field accomplishments, Meyer has also championed efforts in community service.

A new initiative beginning in 2009, UF football players performed more than 400 hours of community service annually, as each student-athlete attended at least two Goodwill Gator events per semester.

In the spring of 2009, the "Swamp Field Trip" was available to local middle schools as a reward for their students who achieve good grades, were involved in community service, had major improvements, etc. The students had the opportunity to speak with a group of players and have a special tour of the football facility given by the players.

The UF football team held the inaugural Gator Charity Challenge in August of 2008 at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium in front of approximately 1,800 people. The fundraiser featured the 2008 Gators challenging each other in a series of strength competitions to raise funds and awareness for six charities that were selected by the football program and are affiliated with Shands, a University partner. The charities were the American Cancer Society, American Diabetes Association, American Heart Association, Children's Miracle Network, March of Dimes and the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. The Gator Charity Challenge was held in association with Uplifting Athletes. The Gators hold the third annual installment of the event in July of 2010.

In the spring of 2008, Meyer initiated a mentor program for young at-risk males. Working with the African-American Accountability Alliance of Alachua County task force, the program BLAQUE (Bold Leaders, Achieving Quality, Unity and Excellence) was developed. The program partnered 15 area middle school children with a Gator football player and a community leader. The goal is to affect change in the lives of at-risk black youth.

In the spring of 2005 and 2006, Meyer worked closely with student-body leaders on campus on a community service initiative surrounding the annual Orange and Blue Spring Game. Student leaders sold Orange and Blue spirit bands prior to the Spring Game with proceeds benefiting the Children's Miracle Network. Fans who purchased the bands were then asked to assist members of the UF coaching staff and football team in the planting of more than 400 crape myrtle trees on Radio Road on campus.

> He puts in so much work, so much. He gets there early, and it's not just the X's and O's of football…He's trying to change young people's lives and be their father figure. He's always calling and checking on players and things like that. He calls and checks on everybody — 110 people — all the time.

> — Riley Cooper, former UF wide receiver and current Philadelphia Eagle

Meyer's goodwill efforts have extended beyond his football family. Inspired by Tebow's missionary work, Meyer and his family spent time in the Dominican Republic on a missionary trip in June of 2008.

Meyer also spearheaded the plans for a $28 million expansion of the football facility which features an expanded weight room, new football offices and the Bill Heavener Football Complex. The state-of-the art building, which opened in July of 2008, pays tribute to Florida's proud tradition, championships and all-time great players.

Meyer's 2009 team tied a school record with 13 wins, including a perfect 8-0 mark in conference action, marking the school's first undefeated league season since 1996 and only the fourth undefeated SEC team in school history (1991, '95, '96). Debuting the year at No. 1, the squad spent 12 weeks at the top spot. Coupled with the 2008 team, the 2009 team put together a school-record 22-game winning streak, the fourth-longest ever by an SEC team and the best in the league in 15 years.

The 2009 squad earned a league-best 10th

Meyer's Community Service Initiatives and Goodwill Efforts

Pictures are different than actually going. And the one thing I'll tell you that I didn't understand: when we came back from three or four villages that we went to, people were very happy. I mean, they didn't have a dime and they had struggled putting food on the table. And there wasn't a whole lot of MTV going on, and certainly no video games. But all the families were pretty much intact, mother, father, children. We fed families and I actually went out to the stores, bought the food with my kids. It was unbelievable, for an hour we went shopping, grabbing rice, beans and oil. I could do it all in my head because we did it so much. Our family walked away saying how unbelievable it was to be able to help them… but its not like they are not happy, that was what I didn't expect. I expected extreme poverty and unhappy people. That wasn't the case.

> I was just mentioning, as we were walking down, there's something about Coach Meyer's teams, they just have a lot of heart. And that's a reflection of coaching values that talk about character and integrity, and not just winning. And so we are very appreciative of the work that you've done, Coach. That's also why it's so easy to tell that these guys have operated like one big family. And that comes across on and off the field.

SEC Championship game appearance and ended the season with a 14-game SEC winning streak, the second-longest in school history. The 2009 team said goodbye to the winningest class in the history of the SEC after posting a 48-7 record. The squad finished in the top-10 nationally in eight statistical categories, including boasting the nation's best passing efficiency offense and the fourth-ranked scoring defense and total defense. Its 457.9 yards per game ranked sixth in the nation.

Coach Meyer is one of two active coaches to have led his team to two consensus national championships, tutored a NFL No. 1 draft pick and have one of his players win the Heisman Trophy.

Meyer's 2008 team featured the most prolific offensive unit in league history, totaling 611 points. Florida became the first school in the history of the SEC to win six-straight league games by 28 points and UF scored 30 or more points in each of its league games.

UF also became the first major college team to win eight consecutive games by 28-plus points since Minnesota in 1903.

The Gators put up those numbers against the nation's second-toughest schedule, facing off against 11 bowl teams. UF posted a 6-0 mark against ranked teams to become the first team in school history to go undefeated against ranked opponents. UF's average margin of victory against ranked teams was 28.3 ppg (combined score of 256-86).

The 2008 team also featured a defense that ranked among the top-10 nationally in total defense and scoring defense and set a school record with 26 interceptions (five returned for a touchdown). UF's special teams tied a school record with nine blocked kicks and its punt return and punt return coverage unit ranked among the top-10 nationally.

Meyer's 2007 Gator team produced a potent offense as well. Behind Heisman Trophy winner Tebow, the Gator offense ranked third nationally (42.5 ppg) and was just eight points shy of tying the school mark for most scored in a season. The team led the nation and established a school record by converting on 53 percent of third downs and posted the second-highest passing efficiency mark in the country (170.17). UF was the only school in the nation to rush for a touchdown and pass for a touchdown in every game.

Against the third-toughest schedule in the nation, UF won nine games for the third-straight year for the first time since 1999-2001 and extended its school record with its 17th-straight bowl appearance – the longest active streak in the SEC.

Meyer captured his first national championship after a 41-14 win over No. 1 ranked Ohio State in Glendale, Ariz.

Florida's run to the 2006 national championship featured a school-record 13 wins, including the school's seventh Southeastern Conference Championship with a 38-28 win over Arkansas in the SEC Title tilt.

The magnitude of the national championship grows when one considers that the 2006 Florida schedule ranked as the toughest in the country by the NCAA, featuring six ranked teams and 11 teams that played in bowl games – the top total in the nation. Meyer was named the National Coach of the Year by the All-American Football Foundation at the conclusion of the season.

Meyer's first year at Florida produced a nine-win season and January Bowl game victory, the Gators' first since 2001. Not only did Florida defeat three of its biggest rivals (Tennessee, Georgia and Florida State), the Gators never trailed in each of those games – a first in program history. Florida's final ranking of No. 12 in the Associated Press Poll was also its highest season-ending ranking since 2001.

Meyer became the first coach in UF history to defeat four ranked opponents in his initial season at Florida and his nine wins tied a school record for most wins by a first-year coach in Gainesville.

Coach Meyer is 11-2 against the active top-10 winningest coaches in college football.

Meyer's 2005 team continued to follow his blueprint for success. Take care of the ball, control the clock, win the field position battle and put the ball in the hands of the best players. Florida

After every NFL visit, all I could do is just text Coach (Urban Meyer) and tell him thank you for everything. I feel like I owed him the world. We had probably the best relationship I could have as far as player-coach relationship with those guys. I owe the University of Florida and The Gator Nation more than I can ever describe. The coaches, I thank them. A lot of my success and a lot things that have come before have helped with moving me and helping me grow as a person.

— Percy Harvin, former UF wide receiver and current Minnesota Viking ranked third nationally in turnover margin at +18, just one shy of the school record set in 2000 and its average time of possession was 32:37, second-best in the SEC and best in UF records dating back to 1986. UF's average starting field position was also tops in the league, thanks in large part to a punt return unit that allowed just 3.3 yards per return – the best in school history and second nationally. For the fifth-straight season under Meyer, a wide receiver ranked among the top-20 nationally in catches per game – this time Chad Jackson tied a school record with 88 receptions, sixth-best in the nation and tied for fourth-best all-time in the SEC.

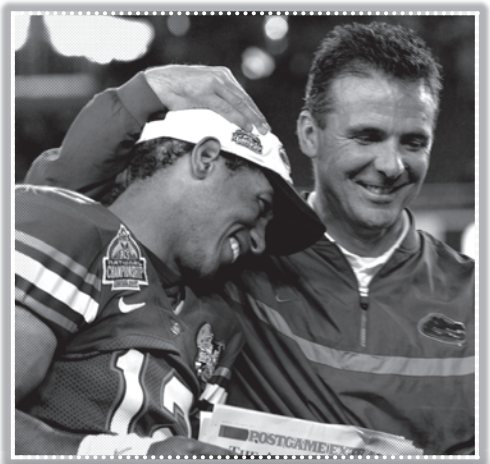
"Urban Meyer represents the qualities that we were looking for in our head coach," Florida Athletics Director Jeremy Foley said. "He is an innovator of the game with proven success as a head coach. He has shown the ability to attract recruits and is a tremendous teacher. Urban's accomplishments speak for themselves. He is a man of high values and principles and we welcome him and his family to the University of Florida family."

"I am certainly excited about the opportunity to be the head coach at the University of Florida," Meyer said. "There were a lot of factors that went into this decision that our entire family had to consider. The opportunity to compete at the highest level at one of the nation's most-respected academic institutions is something that was attractive for us. The passion of Gator fans is legendary in collegiate athletics and I am eager to be a part of that environment.

"The quality of recruits within the state of Florida and the Southeast Region offers a tremendous recruiting base for us," Meyer continued. "The support from the University's administration is evident in their commitment to my family and I am looking forward to leading the Gator football program."



"Urban Meyer is an outstanding coach with a strong record, great leadership skills and a very promising future," said UF President J. Bernard Machen. "I am very happy to welcome him along with Shelley and the Meyer family to UF and Gainesville."

Meyer earned multiple National Coach of the Year honors in 2004 after leading Utah to a perfect 12-0 season, the school's first in 75 years. Meyer collected the Home Depot National Coach of the Year, the George Munger Award for the Collegiate Coach of the Year presented by the Maxwell Club and the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year (Named by the Football Writers Association of America). He also was named National Coach of the Year by Pro Football Weekly and earned the Woody Hayes Trophy Award and the Victor Award.

With its post-season bid to the Fiesta Bowl, Utah made history by becoming the first school from a non-Bowl Championship Series conference to earn a berth in a BCS Bowl. Utah finished as the outright 2004 Mountain West Conference champion to become the only back-to-back outright winners in the league's history.

Under his direction, the Utes ranked in the top-five nationally in six statistical categories. Utah ranked third nationally in scoring (45.3), total offense (499.7), net punting (40.8), turnover margin (+1.25) and passing efficiency (173.4),

Florida Football Initiatives Under Urban Meyer

1. Take back The Swamp

- Coach Meyer began his Florida career with a 16-0 record in The Swamp and is 54-4 (.931) at home as a head coach. Through 34 games under Meyer at home, Florida is 32-2 (.941).

2. Win rivalry games

- Meyer has a 15-1 (.938) record against the Gators' rivals - Tennessee, Georgia, Miami (Fla.) and Florida State - including seven-consecutive wins.
- The 37-10 defeat of Florida State in the 2009 regular-season finale improved Meyer to 5-0 against the Seminoles and the six-game winning streak by the Gators matches their longest in the rivalry since 1981-86.
- The 41-17 victory against Georgia in Jacksonville on Halloween in 2009 raised Meyer to 4-1 versus the Bulldogs.
- The 23-13 win over Tennessee in 2009 improved Coach Meyer to a perfect 5-0 against the Vols and matched the longest Gator winning streak against their Eastern Division rivals.
- After the 59-20 victory over Tennessee on Sept. 15, 2007, the Gators had defeated UT, Georgia and Florida State eight-consecutive times, the longest stretch in school history. Meyer is the first coach in school history to defeat Tennessee in each of his first five seasons and he is also the only coach at UF to begin his career with three-straight wins over Florida State, a stretch which is currently at five.
- The 49-10 victory over Georgia on Nov. 1, 2008 in Jacksonville was the worst defeat for the Bulldogs under Mark Richt and improved Meyer to 3-1 against UGA at that point.
- The 45-15 win at Florida State on Nov. 29, 2008 represented the most points and largest margin of victory for UF at Doak Campbell Stadium.

3. Connect with the fans, the student body and the Community

- Initiated the Gator Walk, during which players enter the stadium through a tunnel of enthusiastic and vibrant Gator fans and colors two hours prior to kickoff.
- Began the tradition of players singing the school song to the student section at the conclusion of home games.
- Held a number of contests for the student body prior to the 2008 Spring Game, including the fastest fan on campus, which was televised live by ESPN.
- Coach Meyer has worked with local community leaders to establish a mentoring program with disadvantaged youth and members of the football team.
- Coach Meyer is equally committed to the University of Florida, as he and Billy Donovan agreed in October of 2008 to lead a campus charge to raise $50 million for UF's Florida Opportunity Scholars Program. The program was created by UF President Bernie Machen to provide financial assistance to first-generation, financially-disadvantaged students working towards a bachelor's degree. Meyer has made a $1 million commitment to the Florida Opportunity Scholarship Program.
- A new initiative that began in 2009, UF football players perform more than 400 hours of community service annually, as each student-athlete attends at least two Goodwill Gator events per semester.
- Instituted the annual Gator Charity Challenge in August of 2008 at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium in front of approximately 1,800 people. The event featured the Gators challenging each other in a series of strength competitions to raise pledges and awareness for six charities that were selected by the football program and are affiliated with Shands, a University partner. The charities were the American Cancer Society, American Diabetes Association, American Heart Association, Children's Miracle Network, March of Dimes and the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. The Gator Charity Challenge was held in association with Uplifting Athletes.

4. Embrace the tradition of Florida football

- Has invited several former players, including 1996 national championship team captain James Bates, to visit and speak with the team. Other former players have included Alex Brown, Danny Wuerffel, Errict Rhett, Jack Youngblood, Emmitt Smith, Percy Harvin, Lawrence Wright, Donnie Young, Trace Armstrong, Terry Jackson and Travis McGriff.
- Required all players to learn the school song, so that they may sing it to the student section after each home game.
- Welcomed back former Gator captains and their families for a special Captains' Legacy Weekend, highlighted by a private dinner for the captains with the current team the night before the Homecoming Game.

5. Recruit quality individuals

- Two student-athletes inducted into the 2009 National Football Foundation Hampshire Honor Society in recognition of their outstanding accomplishments in the classroom, in the Gainesville community and on the football field during their careers at UF.

6. Emphasize Special Teams

- The Gators have blocked 28 kicks under Urban Meyer, including a school-record nine in 2008.
- Florida established a school record by allowing just five punt returns in 2007 for a total of 22 yards and has allowed just 252 punt return yards since 2005 – the lowest total in the nation during that time frame. In 14 games in '09, opponents managed 21 return yards versus the Gators.
- UF returned a punt for a TD in each of Meyer's first four years at Florida.
- Under Urban Meyer, UF has been perfect on executing fake punts (7-for-7).

7. Develop leaders on and off the field

- Coach Meyer established the Gators' Leadership Committee, a group of players charged with acting as spokesmen for the team and handling situations related to team policy issues, academic affairs, off-campus circumstances and other topics.

8. Make academics a priority

- 131 players have been named to the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll in the last five years, including a league record 37 in 2008.
- Florida's 2008 Graduation Success Rate was 72 percent and 2009 GSR was 69.
- 82 student-athletes who have played for Coach Meyer have graduated, including all 13 seniors from the 2008 National Championship Team.
- Florida's APR was 971 in the May of 2010 report by the NCAA, placing them in the 80-90th percentile within the sport and well above the sports Division I average of 947.

9. Improve Facilities

- Spearheaded the plans for a $28 million expansion of the football facility which features expanded weight room, new football offices and state-of-the-art technology. The project began in February of 2007 and was completed in July of 2008.

10. Utilize Team Speed

- The 2008 Gator football team featured 12 players who clock under a 4.4 40-yard time, including current sophomore Jeff Demps, who set American and National High School Record and tied the World Junior Record for his age group in the 100-meter dash (10.01) at the U.S. Olympic Trials.
- During the 2009 campaign, the Gators totaled 121 plays of over 20 yards totaling 3,790 yards (31.3 avg.): 34 runs for 1,056 yards, 49 receptions for 1,568 yards and a total of 38 kick/punt/defensive returns for 1,166 yards.

> After my dad, Coach Meyer was the most influential in my life. Dad did a lot in installing principles and values in me. Coach Meyer helped me with application of those principles and values. He taught me not just to have it stored up, but to use it.

and was ranked fifth nationally in kick returns (26.2). The Utes were the only school in the nation to have their rushing offense (236.1, 13th) and passing offense (263.7, 19th) rank in the top 20 nationally.

Utah led the MWC in 11 categories, including scoring offense, total offense, pass efficiency offense, pass efficiency defense, turnover margin, kick returns and third-down conversions (52.3). The Utes were the MWC runner-up in rushing offense, passing defense (203.3), scoring defense (19.5), total defense (343.2), punt returns (10.9) and sacks against (18).

Meyer completed his Utah coaching career riding a 16-game winning streak, the second-longest in the nation behind only Southern California (21). The Utes did not trail at halftime of any 2004 game and their closest margin of victory was 14, a 49-35 win over Air Force on Sept. 25.

Meyer's mark has been made on the NFL Draft as well, tutoring the No. 1 pick in the 2005 Draft. Quarterback Alex Smith, the first-round draft pick by the San Francisco 49ers that April, is one of 62 former Meyer players who have signed contracts with NFL teams.

Meyer was named the 2003 National Coach of the Year by The Sporting News after leading the Utes to a 10-2 record, their first outright conference championship since 1957, a bowl victory and a final national ranking of No. 21. He became the first coach from the MWC and just the second coach from a non-BCS program to receive the coveted TSN award. Meyer was also voted the MWC Coach of the Year, becoming Utah's first conference coach of the year selection since 1978. He became the only coach in the school's 111-year football history to win a conference title in his first year.

Ironically, Utah's 2003 wins came against one of the toughest schedules in school history. Two were against Pac-10 foes Oregon and California, and the Ducks were ranked No. 19 when Utah scored a 17-13 upset. The Utes also knocked off perennial league powers Colorado State, Air Force and Brigham Young. It was the first Ute sweep of that trio in 10 years and the first-ever road sweep against them. Meyer's Utes capped the season with a 17-0 victory over Conference USA champion Southern Mississippi at the AXA Liberty Bowl.

In 2003, Utah won five more games than the previous year, when it was 5-6, and matched BCS national champion LSU as the fifth-most improved team in the nation. Meyer's explosive spread offense and one of the nation's best defenses brought Utah local and national attention. The 2003 Utes shattered their previous home attendance record by averaging 41,478 fans. The largest crowd ever to attend a Utah athletic event (46,768) and a national ESPN television audience watched the Utes beat California, 31-24, in Rice-Eccles Stadium.

Coach Meyer's quarterbacks own two of the top five career QB efficiency ratings in NCAA history.

Known as a defensive power, Utah's reputation on that side of the ball held true while the offense simply took off using Meyer's system. Utah shut out its last two opponents, Brigham Young and Southern Miss, and finished No. 19 in the nation in scoring defense (19.1 points per game). On the other side of the line, Utah went from last in scoring offense in 2002 to third in the league by averaging 28.7 points per game in '03. A similar improvement (seventh to fourth) was made in total offense. Red zone scoring, a Meyer point of emphasis, rose 11 percentage points (68 percent -79 percent, with 61 percent of those scores coming on touchdowns, versus 49 percent in 2002.

Utah's special teams, under Meyer's direct supervision, also improved dramatically from past years. The Utes led the nation in kick return average (28.2 yards per return) and ranked second in the league in kickoff coverage (16.4 yards per opponent return) in 2003.

Meyer began his head coaching career at Bowling Green in 2001, where he engineered the top turnaround in NCAA Division I-A football, showing a six-win improvement from the previous season. The Falcons rebounded from a 2-9 record to post their first winning season since 1994 with an 8-3 finish. For his efforts, he was named the 2001 Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year. A year later, he guided BGSU to a 9-3 record and its highest national ranking in school history (No. 16 ESPN/USA Today and No. 20 Associated Press). Bowling Green spent five weeks in the national polls and finished third in the nation in scoring offense, averaging 40.8 points per game.

Coach Meyer is one of two active coaches with multiple 20-game winning streaks.

The Falcons, who became the highest scoring team in MAC history, also finished ninth in the nation in total offense (448.9 ypg) and 11th in rushing offense (219.1 ypg) in 2002. They were the only team in the nation to average at least 215 yards rushing and 215 yards passing per game. BGSU also led the nation in red zone production, scoring on 61-of-63 trips (.968) inside the 20-yard line, including 52 touchdowns.

His teams fared well defensively, too. In 2001, BGSU ranked first in the MAC in scoring defense (19.5 ppg), rushing defense (86.3 ypg) and total defense (319.5 ypg). Bowling Green led the MAC in turnover margin both years under Meyer.

Meyer's 17-6 record at Bowling Green included a 5-0 mark against BCS teams and two wins over ranked opponents. After his first of two wins over Missouri, Meyer was named ESPN.com National Coach of the Week in 2001.

Meyer apprenticed at Ohio State (1986-87), Illinois State (1988-89), Colorado State (1990-95) and Notre Dame (1996-2000) before getting the head job at Bowling Green. The Ashtabula, Ohio, native learned the coaching trade from the likes of Sonny Lubick, Lou Holtz, Earle Bruce and Bob Davie.

Coach Meyer's teams have led the SEC in a team statistical category 28 times and ranked in the top five nationally in a team statistical category 19 times.

I went down there (to Gainesville), and it was good for me. The offense he runs is very…I won't say it's a pro-style offense, but it's an open offense that has a lot of pro elements to it. From what I know about Urban, he runs a program similar to the way we run our program, so we talked about lots of things relative to technical football, Xs and Os, how to deal with different stuff that's common (to both pro and college football). Probably a lot of things I believe in have been reinforced, because I respect (Meyer). It's great to get that perspective (from Meyer).

The 1999 season saw Meyer's receiving corps break the Irish single-season record for pass receptions with 192 and total receiving yards with 2,858. During 1998, Meyer coached split end Malcolm Johnson, who ended his career with 110 receptions, the seventh-most in school history.

In 1997, Meyer coached Johnson and fellow receiver Bobby Brown as they became the first Irish pair of players to record 40 or more receptions individually in a season as Brown had 45 receptions and Johnson had 42. In addition, the Notre Dame receivers helped set a then single-season school record with 190 receptions.

Meyer coached a youthful Irish receiving corps in 1996 and helped integrate those players with veteran quarterback Ron Powlus to contribute to a Notre Dame offense that produced the third-highest figures for total offense and scoring in Irish history.

Prior to going to Notre Dame, Meyer had served as wide receiver coach for six years at Colorado State. He helped the Rams to the 1994 Western Athletic Conference title and to Holiday Bowl appearances following both the 1994 (10-2) and 1995 seasons (8-4).

In 1992, he coached wide receiver Greg Primus, an All-WAC pick who finished as Colorado State's all-time leading receiver and ended up with 192 career catches for 3,200 yards (then 10th on the NCAA's all-time yardage list). He also helped the Rams to the Freedom Bowl title following the 1990 season.

Meyer spent the previous two seasons at Illinois State, coaching quarterbacks and receivers in 1989 and outside linebackers in 1988. He worked as receivers coach at Ohio State in 1987 and helped the Buckeyes to a Cotton Bowl win following the 1986 campaign, when he coached tight ends.

A 13th-round pick in the Major League Baseball Amateur Draft in 1982, he played two years in the Atlanta Braves' organization. He played as a defensive back at the University of Cincinnati before earning his degree in psychology in 1986. He went on to earn a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio State in 1988.

Born July 10, 1964, Meyer and his wife Shelley are the parents of two daughters, Nicole (19) and Gigi (17), and a son, Nathan (11).

Coaching, the techniques, blocking, understanding the concepts of plays, being prepared for when your number's called – everything. We do pretty much the same thing at Florida that we do in the NFL.

Dr. J. Bernard Machen

The University of Florida Board of Trustees unanimously elected Dr. James Bernard Machen as the university's 11th president on Oct. 8, 2003. Dr. Machen, who previously served as president of the University of Utah, assumed his new position on Jan. 5, 2004.

A native of Greenwood, Miss., Dr. Machen grew up in St. Louis. After attending Vanderbilt University for his undergraduate studies, he earned his doctor of dental surgery degree from Saint Louis University and his master of science in pediatric dentistry and doctorate in educational psychology from the University of Iowa. He is a diplomate of the American Board of Pediatric Dentistry and was president of the American Association of Dental Schools. He also served on the Board of Trustees of the 2002 Salt Lake Olympic Committee.

Prior to his tenure at Utah, Dr. Machen was the provost and vice president for academic affairs and dean of the School of Dentistry at the University of Michigan. He served as an assistant and an associate dean in the School of Dentistry at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He held faculty appointments as associate professor and professor at UNC-Chapel Hill.

From 1992 to 1995, Dr. Machen was a member of the National Academy of Science's Institute of Medicine Committee on Educating Dentists for the Future. He also has a past appointment as chief of the Department of Extension Services at the U.S. Army Institute of Dental Research.

Since coming to the University of Florida, Dr. Machen has shepherded the University through a period of rapid growth and increasing prestige. Today, UF has over 50,000 students, a research budget topping $561 million, and an endowment of about one billion. Dr. Machen has also undertaken several ambitious initiatives aimed at both improving UF and enhancing its contribution to the state and nation. These include efforts to create a more culturally diverse campus, enhance students' educational experience, promote statewide economic development, bring about better stewardship of natural resources and make the University more environmentally friendly.

In 2005, Dr. Machen introduced the First in Family Scholarship Program, designed to provide financial assistance for economically disadvantaged students who are the first in their families to attend college. The program attracted the attention of Florida Gov. Jeb Bush, who subsequently advocated a similar statewide program, the First Generation Scholarship Program.

To attract and retain the nation's best and brightest faculty, Dr. Machen created the Faculty Challenge with a goal of raising $150 million in private support for endowment to give faculty the tools they need to enhance classroom instruction and conduct world-class research. To date, the faculty challenge has raised more than $200 million.

The University also joined the Florida High Tech Corridor Council in 2005. This council is aimed at attracting new and emerging technology companies to Central and North Florida. UF's participation in the council is one of many ways that the University has sought to play a leading role in growing Florida's technology economy under Dr. Machen's tenure. Others include ramping up UF's patenting and licensing activities, with UF recently ranked seventh nationwide among both public and private universities in number of patents generated annually.

Dr. Machen's tenure also has been marked by environmental initiatives. In 2004, he created the University of Florida Water Institute, which provides a focal point for water-related research, education and public outreach programs. In 2005, he gave sustainability a higher profile when he announced a series of measures to reduce the University's impact on the environment. UF held its first Sustainability Day in late 2005, and in February 2006 the University named its first director of sustainability. UF also was named a Certified Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary, the first university to achieve this status and one of 607 such sanctuaries in the world.

He has academic interests in national health policy. Dr. Machen and his wife, Chris, are the parents of three children.

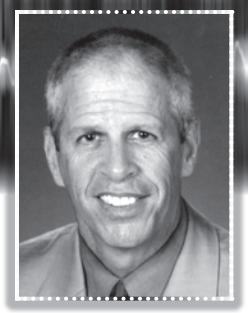
Jeremy N. Foley



Jeremy N. Foley, who has handled virtually every aspect of the University of Florida's $94 million athletic program during his athletic administrative career - which began with an internship in the Gator Ticket Office in 1976 - was named UF's Director of Athletics in March of 1992.

A man with great vision and experience, Foley, 57, brings a passionate top-to-bottom team approach to the top athletic post at the University of Florida. Foley's philosophy involves the continued building of a comprehensive athletic program, with the goal of having the overall UF program ranked as the top athletic program in the nation.

As chief financial officer for the University Athletic Association (UAA), Foley has spearheaded a number of capital improvement projects in the athletic department. The project lists includes two major expansions of the football stadium, a multipurpose athletic fieldhouse, new facilities for tennis, track & field, soccer, baseball, golf, softball and swimming. Foley also played a role in the academic advising center on the University of Florida campus, which serves UF students and Gator student-athletes and assisted in funding the renovation of the Stephen C. O'Connell Center. A project that enhanced the football experience for Gator student-athletes, staff and visitors - was completed in July of 2008 and received platinum certification from the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Green Building Ration System, the highest ranking available. It is the first building in Florida and the first athletic facility in the nation to achieve platinum status. Foley's recent project was the lacrosse facility – a 1,500 seat-stadium offering fans a great view of this fast-paced sport – completed prior to the inaugural season this past Spring.

Foley's commitment to the overall athletic program includes a plan of increased opportunities for women, as three women's sports have been added under his tenure – soccer, softball and, most recently, lacrosse.

Also, in an era when the NCAA estimates 90 percent of Division I schools are losing money on intercollegiate athletics, the University of Florida Athletic Association has contributed more than $55 million since 1990 to help fund University of Florida academic endeavors.

Florida has been equally successful on the field of play and in the classroom during Foley's administrative tenure. The Florida athletic program has ranked among the nation's top 10 for 27-straight years (1983-84, 2009-10) and among the top five for 14 of the last 21 years, according to national all-sport rankings.

UF became the first program in collegiate history to own both the men's basketball and football national titles in the same calendar year, after capturing crowns in 2006. The men's basketball team then became the first repeat champions in their sport in 15 years after cutting the nets down again in 2007.

Foley is the only athletic director in Division I history to supervise a program that has won multiple national titles in football (1996, 2006, 2008) and men's basketball (2006, 2007) and overall 15 Gator teams have been crowned national champions under his watch.

The 2009-10 athletic year was among the best in school history. On the strength of national championships by the women's swimming and diving team and the men's indoor track and field team, the Gators finished second in the national all-sports rankings, the best finish in school history. It also marked the first time UF had finished in the top three in consecutive seasons after a third place showing in 2008-09. A school-record 14 teams finished in the top 10, including nine in the top-five.

In Southeastern Conference action, Florida picked up seven league crowns in 2009-10 action, raising its total to 92 league titles since 1992, the top totals in the SEC over that time span.

UF's commitment in the classroom is equally impressive. Under Foley, UF student-athletes have been honored 77 times as Academic All-Americans. The University of Florida has more than 1,800 SEC Academic Honor Roll honorees in the last 11 years.

The Gator athletic coaching family, which Foley had a large part in assembling, has collected 60 SEC Coach of-the-Year awards during the last 18 years.

Gator student athletes, coaches and administrators have also been a fixture in the community, taking part in a variety of community related endeavors.

Florida student athletes remained involved in the community and beyond. A total of 498 UF student athletes have participated in 3,183 hours of community service in 2009-10, partnering with 17 schools, four civic organizations and 24 non-profit organizations. Florida was honored with a White House commendation for volunteerism in 1994.

Foley was named the Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal National Athletic Director of the Year in June of 2006 and the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame awarded him the 2007 John L. Toner Award. The Toner Award is designed to honor and acknowledge outstanding athletics directors who have demonstrated superior administrative abilities especially in the area of college football.

Foley also served on the NCAA Division I Management Council from 1997-2002.

Foley was named Honorary Alumnus of the University of Florida by the Florida Alumni Association Board of Directors in October of 2000.

Born in Washington, D.C., but calling New London, N.H., home, Foley received his undergraduate degree in 1974 from Hobart College in Geneva, N.Y., where he also coached and scouted for the tradition-rich lacrosse program following graduation. He went on to earn his Master's Degree in Sports Administration from Ohio University in 1976 and then joined the Gator athletic program as an intern in the ticket office. In 1995, the Ohio Graduate School presented Foley with the school's Distinguished Alumni Award. The Ohio University Alumni Association also awarded Foley with the Medal of Merit in September of 2008.

In 2008, the Hobart Alumni Association presented Foley with the Medal of Excellence, their highest honor, for outstanding achievements as Athletic Director at the University of Florida, which has brought honor and distinction to his alma mater.

The Holderness School, a small, private, college preparation school in Plymouth, New Hampshire presented Foley, class of 1970, with their 2007 Distinguished Alumni Award in November of 2007.

An avid sports and Boston Red Sox fan, Foley ran the Boston Marathon in a 3:39.51 clip in April of 1995 and completed the course in 3:28.10 in 1998. A dog lover and proud owner of one Labrador retriever, he is involved with the Humane Society and local charities.

NCAA Rules Education Prospective Student-Athletes

PROSPECTIVE STUDENT-ATHLETE

You are a "prospective student-athlete" when you start ninth-grade classes. Before the ninth grade, you become a prospective student-athlete if a college gives you (or your relatives or friends) any financial aid or other benefits that the college does not provide to prospective students generally.

You become a "recruited prospective student-athlete" at a particular college if any coach or representative of the college's athletics interest (booster or representative) approaches you (or any member of your family) about enrolling and participating in athletics at that college. Activities by coaches or boosters that cause you to become a recruited prospective student-athlete are:

- providing you with an official visit;
- visiting you or any other member of your family anywhere other than the college campus;
- placing more than one telephone call to you or any other member of your family; or
- signing a National Letter of Intent or a University of Florida written offer of athletically related financial aid.

ACADEMICS AND AMATEURISM

It is extremely important for you to give maximum academic effort as you conclude your high school attendance while maintaining your amateur status before entering college. To practice or play during your freshman year, you must meet the provisions of NCAA Bylaw 14.3, which include: (a) graduating from high school, (b) achieving a minimum cumulative grade point average in 16 core courses, and achieving a corresponding minimum combined score on the SAT, or a minimum sum total score on the ACT as determined by the NCAA Eligibility Center. You must also meet the provisions of Bylaw 12.3, which include verification that you have retained your amateur status prior to entering college. The NCAA Eligibility Center must certify the initial-eligibility and amateur status of all incoming freshman student-athletes. Therefore, you must register with the Eligibility Center as soon as possible. For online web access contact: www.eligibilitycenter.org.

INDUCEMENTS

All institutional staff members and boosters are prohibited from offering or providing any financial aid or other benefits to you or your relatives or friends other than those expressly permitted by NCAA regulations. Specifically prohibited inducements include:

- providing cash or loans in any amount, or
- signing or co-signing for a loan
- providing gifts of any kind, including clothing or equipment
- providing special discounts for goods or services
- providing free or reduced housing/rent

Should you have any questions regarding NCAA rules and regulations, please feel free to contact the University of Florida Athletic Association Compliance Office at (352) 375-4683, ext. 6022.

NATIONAL HONORS

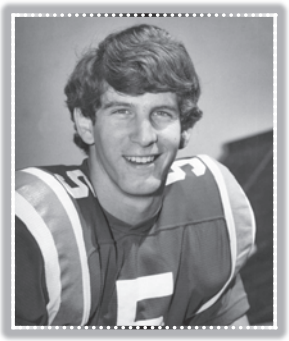
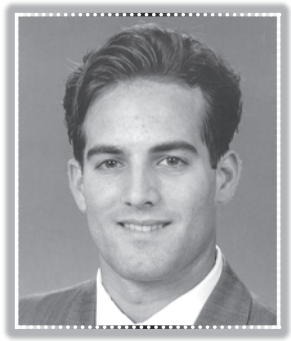
Danny Wuerffel was chosen as the 1995 and 1996 Verizon Academic All-American of the Year, as well as the recipient of the Draddy Trophy as the nation's premier scholar-athlete.

Gator receiver great Carlos Alvarez (left) was inducted into the Verizon Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 1989. Another Gator receiving great, Cris Collinsworth, was inducted into that prestigious organization in 2001.

Brad Culpepper was the recipient of the Draddy Scholarship Trophy in 1991, presented annually by the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame to the nation's premier football scholar-athlete.



Bill Kynes was a recipient of a 1977 Rhodes Scholarship. DB Michael Gilmore was a national finalist for that award in 1993.



Michael Gilmore was one of the nation's most honored scholar-athletes during 1993-94. He was a first-team Verizon Academic All-America honoree both of those years, as well as a first-team Hitachi/CFA Scholar-Athlete Team recipient. In 1994, he received the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete Award and the NCAA Post-graduate Scholarship Award.

Florida is the only school in the nation to claim three recipients of the William O. Campbell Trophy, which honors the nation's premier scholar-athlete. Defensive tackle Brad Culpepper won the award in 1991, quarterback Danny Wuerffel garnered the honor in 1996 and quarterback Tim Tebow earned the recognition in 2009.

Forrest K. (Fergie) Ferguson Award

The Forrest K. (Fergie) Ferguson Award is given in memory of one of the all-time great athletes at Florida. It goes annually to the senior football player who displays outstanding leadership, character and courage.

Ferguson started at end for the Gators from 1939-41 and wrote pass receiving records which would stand until the pro-style passing era of the 1960s. He was an All-American in 1941. He was also a collegiate state boxing champion and in 1942 won the National AAU javelin championship.

Fergie entered the Army in 1942 as a second lieutenant and was severely wounded in the Normandy Invasion in 1944. He won the Distinguished Service Cross for his heroism under fire. He died of his war wounds 10 years later.

James W. Kynes Award

Presented annually to the offensive lineman who best exemplified the mental and physical toughness and "iron-man" determination Kynes exhibited as a Gator player and in his lifetime.

Kynes, Florida's first All-SEC offensive lineman and captain of the 1949 team, was the last Gator football player to play every minute in a game, something he accomplished several times during his career, including in his final game against Alabama. He went on to become the youngest Attorney General in the state of Florida's history at age 37 and was a business and civic leader in Tampa until his death of cancer at age 60 on Oct. 13, 1988.

Close friends Tom MacDonald and George Levy originated the Kynes Award in 1986. The first recipient was offensive tackle David Williams.

Ray Graves Award

Presented annually to the team's Most Valuable Player as selected by a vote of the entire squad. Head coach Steve Spurrier initiated the award in 1990 in tribute to Graves, who was head coach from 1960-69.

He compiled a 70-31-4 record at the Gator helm, then the record for most wins (70) in school history for a head coach. Graves led Florida to winning records in nine of his 10 seasons at the helm, including nine or more wins three times. Graves' teams also appeared in five bowl games, posting a 4-1 record. He coached Florida's first Heisman Trophy winner in Spurrier, who captured college football's most prestigious honor in 1966.
